

SOME COMMENTS ON THE MEANING OF WORDS

Atabay Jumaniyazov
Iroda Ismoilova

Abstract— In this article some points of views (discussional) are expressed. This article implies the importance of lexical units, their meanings in our life, understanding lexies and relising them clearly.

Index Terms— Motivation, motivation according to results, motivation according to status, requirement, stimulation, encouragement, moral encouragement, The meaning of the words, the essence of the words, the gist of the words, Word, Meaning, Spirit, Reason, Content, Meaning of pointing, Intelligence, Sense organs, Sense.

1 INTRODUCTION

As you know, word (1) plays a key role in one of the most important communication tools of humanity - the basic unit of the language. The interaction between a personality society is largely based only on words (except gestures, gestures, gestures, visions, etc.). We use the words to describe the objectivity of the object, and show them the essential signs, the nature of things around us (the appearance, the size, the color, the shape of life) and the essence (life, role, its importance). The symptom of these characters is conceived in our minds by our five emotional members, which are understood by the concepts and sensations that are perceived under the influence of hearing, hearing, taste, smell, and perception. As a result, the word of humanity becomes such a powerful tool that we now have to see, hear, taste or smell the events or phenomena that are expressed through the words, to sense or to smell (eg soft-tempered, there is no need to sit there. Therefore, the whole universe is fully expressed through eighteen thousand words, which are understood by the existence of (or does not exist) there is no need to go back or visit them again. They are spiritually enlightened. It is acknowledged that the word (language) is a great weapon for human life and that it is a vital force in alleviating the suffering of its members, and admits its miraculous power. The Creator gives praise to his "teaching aid" for mankind.

In the context of the words "Meaning of the Words", which is based on these arguments, it is important to emphasize first of all that each word has its meaning or meanings but also the concept that is being understood by them (the true meaning) is mainly expressed in the conversation (s). The information that we want to convey, the message we want to quote, or the thoughts we have in mind are expressed in terms of the meaning of the words and the syntactical connection of words (2).

1) .Things include the smallest independent meaning and independent unit of the language. This article is to be read in conjunction with this definition

2) .Through the term "word", the word (grammatically) correctly linked to (phonetic), from the point of view of the relationship, We understand the idea that the tool is aware of.

2 MATERIALS AND METHODS

However, on the basis of our article, we keep in mind that the word "meaning" does not mean "talk", but we do not focus on the subject, but focus on the meaning of the words. It should be noted that, in the first place, the word "meaning" does not have a definite idea or definite definition in the Uzbek linguistic theory which still needs to be understood. Because the word "meaning" is interpreted as an alternative to the meaning, concept, or lexeme, meaning "meaning" can sometimes be interpreted as meaning "meaning" or "meaning" These are justified in the vocabulary of our language. It is also noted that, while recording a broader contextual context of the "meaning" lexema, it is entirely meaningful to the "content" lexeme in its human imagination association (3) there are also live examples. In this context, the meaning of "meaning" and "content" is not only two separate units of consciousness, but their meanings are also ignored by the curiosity of their discoveries. However, the essence of the meaning of the word "meaning" is that the concept of "content" is linked to the words of the ground and the formation of different perspectives in the perception of human consciousness does not require excessive explanation. They also have different syntactic units. In addition, these words are based on a special approach to the field of thought: "Meaning" is abstractly supported directly by the human spirit, while the "content" in our minds is in the minds of our sensual members.

3 THEORY/CALCULATIONS

The meaning and content of our arguments to prove our lack of commentary on popular vocabulary (2006) commentary on the "Dictionary of the Uzbek Language" The following are some of the comments made by the "Explanatory Dictionary of the Uzbek Language" (2006):

Meaning (content, concept, idea);

1. The essence of the word is the word expressed in words. The true meaning of the word. - By the way, in my habit I was interested in knowing the meaning of the words and the relation of the names to the name, why did they call this village fast? I asked. S. Ainiy "Essentials".

2. Content. Gawhar said, "If I can afford it, I will not spare my help." H.Hashimov

3. Some actions and what is understood from these concepts; expression. The woman understood her motto and said, "What will happen if you tell the truth?"

4. The essence of something, the essence.

Samandarov said, "What kind of competition has happened? Do you understand the meaning of the competition?" "Abdulla Kahhor" Kashgar Lights "

In order to make it clearer and more explicit that the comments of these lexemes are being mentioned in their linguistic terms as meaningful words, we also refer to the "content".

Content (content, meaning)

1. Intelligent, logical contextualized thinking; internal context of the other character. The content of the book. The contents of the letter. "Your father has written a letter to me, I read and read, but I do not understand his content." A. Kadiriyy "Past Days"

2. The essence of the work, the event, and so forth. Like all other peaceful peoples, peace and creative work are the source of life, the source of life for Chinese as well.

3. The basis of the essential elements and transformations that define the essence of an event, representing things as something. Forms and content units.

4 Results

It is clear from these comments that the most important factor in human life is understanding of the meaning and content of words, not by nature or by the fact that a human being first feels that he is in contact with the spirit. By means of words, things and phenomena in the objective world are not only known but also emotionally recognized by their sensory organs (seeing, hearing, touching, smelling, touching, touching, swallowing, or sensing) and it looks like a soul. Through the sense of the human body, it deals with the understanding of the human mind, helps to understand the meaning and content of the mind, and the human being is spiritually upset, and his thoughts are deepened. And their minds are also improved. Indeed, a person has an understanding of the meanings and meanings of the objective being expressed through words, by empowering and understanding the meaning of the word.

5 Discussions

But consciousness is not enough, and it does not always be clear and straightforward. Therefore, "human understand" does not mean "man knows exactly." You need a good soul to know the meaning of words and to feel the heart. It is difficult to understand the meaning that is understood first and foremost by the merging of the soul, then the word that is called it and the effect of both. In short, the meaning is to rely on the five sensory members of the human being and understand the words spiritually, in the full and proper use of their mind. When it comes to ideas, it is necessary to understand what the words mean by what they can see, neither hear nor hold. The mind is the perception of our souls. We will try to explain our views with specific examples.

For example, you can see what color (rainbow colors - red, orange, yellow, green, blue, blue, purple) is, but we can not say what it is. It's natural to see the color, but it's still darker than what's under the eyes.

3). In the modern linguistics, meaningful words are different from one another, and the same meaning does not occur in the tongue, but their meaning is in a particular case, and the similarity two different things and events based on comparisons of phenomena have been repeatedly emphasized in recent years.

Now it is necessary to use the second grace of wisdom given to the human being. However, our minds are also linked to the sensation of our five sensory organs, yet it can not describe what color is and why it is weak. Now comes the knowledge (experiments). Based on these, we know that light needs to be made to feel the color. Darkness denied the color, "disappears". Now, when we come to realize that we have three things in common, it is certain that there is certain light and certain color. We see the color, the light, the whole thing, but we do not understand what "certain" is, because it does not amount to anything,

4. The essence of something, the essence.

Samandarov said, "What kind of competition has happened? Do you understand the meaning of the competition?" "Abdulla Qahhor" Kashgar Lights "

In order to make it clearer and more explicit that the comments of these lexemes are being mentioned in their linguistic terms as meaningful words, we also refer to the "content".

Content (content, meaning)

1. Intelligent, logical contextualized thinking; internal context of the other character. The content of the book. The contents of the letter. "Your father has written a letter to me, I read and read, but I do not understand his content." A. Kadiriyy "Past Days"

2. The essence of the work, the event, and so forth. Like all other peaceful peoples, peace and creative work are the source of life, the source of life for Chinese as well.

3. The basis of the essential elements and transformations that define the essence of an event, representing things as something. Forms and content units.

It is clear from these comments that the most important factor in human life is understanding of the meaning and content of words, not by nature or by the fact that a human being first feels that he is in contact with the spirit. By means of words, things and phenomena in the objective world are not only known but also emotionally recognized by their sensory organs (seeing, hearing, touching, smelling, touching, touching, swallowing, or sensing) and it looks like a soul. Through the sense of the human body, it deals with the understanding of the human mind, helps to understand the meaning and content of the mind, and the human being is spiritually upset, and his thoughts are deepened. And their minds are also improved. Indeed, a person has an understanding of the meanings and meanings of the objective being expressed through words, by empowering and understanding the meaning of the word. But consciousness is not enough, and it does not always be clear and straightforward. Therefore, "human understand" does not mean "man knows exactly." You need a good soul to know the meaning of words and to feel the heart. It is difficult to understand the meaning that is understood first and foremost by the merging of the soul, then the word that is called it and the effect of both. In short, the meaning is to rely on the five sensory members of the human being and understand the words spiritually, in the full and proper use of their mind. When it comes to ideas, it is necessary to understand what the words mean by what they can see, neither hear nor hold. The mind is the perception of our souls. We will try to explain our views with specific examples.

For example, you can see what color (rainbow colors - red, orange, yellow, green, blue, blue, purple) is, but we can not say what it is. It's natural to see the color, but it's still darker than what's under the eyes.

Now it is necessary to use the second grace of wisdom given to the human being. However, our minds are also linked to the sensation of our five sensory organs, yet it can not describe what color is and why it is weak. Now comes the knowledge (experiments). Based on these, we know that light needs to be made to feel the color. Darkness denied the color, "disappears". Now, when we come to realize that we have three things in common, it is certain that there is certain light and certain color. We see the color, the light, the whole thing, but we do not understand what "certain" is, because it implies neither quantity nor degree nor reality. As a result, we are again burdened with understanding the essence and the essence of the principle. It is as if we have a dream (picture, picture) of our "color" and we feel it, but it can not be described in terms of words. As a result, the color is only reflected and reflected in our souls. Here is a brief summary of our comments: Our emotional members are weakening, we have no idea, and we have little knowledge in solving this problem (what is its color). At the same time, his spirit helps a person, helps to understand the meaning, or acknowledges the meaning of the words once more that it depends on the soul of man. The spirit can not prevent it from entering into the heart, neither the time, nor the word. In addition, it should be noted that the spirituality of man depends on his spirit, spiritual purity. Indeed, the meaning of the words is understood by the spirit, and that is the meaning.

5 CONCLUSION

At the end of our article, the importance of words in foreign language learning is crucial a simple example to show more clearly. For a clearer understanding of the subject, we will focus on the auxiliaries and their paradigmatic use.

Example: It was talked about you yesterday. Instead of the assistant you are talking about, we use the synonym "on the right", "bobin," and "on the subject", because it can easily be replaced by these synonyms. As far as the meaning of these words (words) can be reached, the hearer will immediately hear this statement. He does not care about the meaning of the auxiliaries mentioned above, and he thinks he is a nephew. However, there is only one option that is more negative in the meaning of the above mentioned assistants. The rest are just and only to rejoice. The fact that the Assistant Party Coach is entitled to a life and work; The "About" assistant, the right person, the right attitude to the surroundings; The personality of the person concerned about the "affair" is about the good qualities of the person; The topic in the chapter is large, and a part of it is related to that person; As for the "assistant" dealer, it is assumed that such a person is in existence, that he is present, and that there is an emphasis. Now you have to look more closely at the statement of the auxiliaries

The meaning of the term "talk" in the text, for some reason, has a negative connotation in the text, such as the fact that it is a matter of debate and discussion.

REFERENCES

- [1] Drozdovski G. Duden. Deutsches Universalwörterbuch. Mannheim, Dudenverlag, 1989
- [2] Madvaliyev A. Explanatory dictionary of Uzbek language. 5 volumes.

National Encyclopedia of Uzbekistan. Tashkent, 2006.

- [3] Rasulov I. Introduction to linguistics. Tashkent: Teacher, 1981.

-
- Atabay Jumaniyazov - professor, Urgench State University, Uzbekistan E-mail adress: Atabeyj@yahoo.de
 - Iroda Ismoilova - 3-year student, Urgench State University, Uzbekistan E-mail adress: iroda.ismailova.1997@mail.ru